PASTOR'S PAGE

At the beginning of summer, I referred to this liturgical season as the “Green and Growing” time of the church. That language of life, abundance, and nurture continues to suit us well at Phinney. As plenty of people have said, in plenty of ways, we are indeed in a time of transition. Transition is often bumpy, unknown, and even anxiety-producing. But this is a joyful time for Phinney Ridge Lutheran Church, because as we think seriously about our need and opportunity for renewal and growth, we do that work from a place of strength!

Despite change and uncertainty, this community is thriving. We are green! We have much to be thankful for and solid, healthy ground from which to do our growing. This summer provided much evidence of the abundant life here (see this newsletter for a few examples!).

I've been so grateful for your presence in worship and fellowship this summer. I don't know if you noticed, but normally we sort-of take a “rest” in the summer months. We have fewer committee meetings, no classes, limited gatherings. We focus on Sunday worship and day-to-day ministry, and give our staff and volunteers a little break while people are busy and traveling anyway. But this summer, we have been intentional about our social gatherings, making time and space to gather to get to know one another, reconnect, and simply find joy in community.

Summer has also been marked by numerous volunteer musicians in worship, the addition of our Pray Ground in the Sanctuary (for littles and their grown-ups to worship more fully!), many hands sharing the hard work of caring for our building and grounds, the ongoing ministry of our food bank and support to neighbors in need, and so much more. It was not a “break” but it was exactly what we needed. We needed to be together, to invest in this place and each other, and to rejoice in what God is already doing among us. Thank you for all of it!

We have a strong congregation to be grateful for, and this is a time to renew our hope and put our minds to the creative work of growing even more. God has called us to steward this particular church community in this time and place, yes, and let's not forget Jesus' call to be looking outward, noticing who is missing, and meeting those on the margins. The seeds planted here are intended to grow and bear fruit not just for ourselves – but out into the world. Here we plant seeds, are nourished with word and meal, and are sent out to spread those seeds far and wide, continuing the work of God throughout the world in our own daily lives.

I'm so thankful for all of you who show up to worship, join us online, visit one another, volunteer in so many ways, give generously, and pray for our ministries. This is a joyful, hopeful, growing time, and God promises that the seeds we sew will bear fruit. We can scatter those seeds lavishly – why not?! As we turn to fall, we'll be inviting you into more opportunities for dreaming, wondering, planning and planting. Please be a part of this important visioning work, and our life together in Christ.

In Christ, Pastor Anne

Wondering about our staff and pastoral transitions?

Your congregation council has been working diligently through the summer to ensure a smooth transition since Pastor Hansen's resignation. We are working closely with the Synod and will be introducing you to two part-time transition pastors who will join our team soon. The work of deciding what comes next belongs to all of us – including you! There will be ample opportunity for you to have your voice heard, and for you to listen to other voices, as we make decisions about staff and budget over the coming weeks and months. You can look forward to a monthly update in worship from members of council, along with other correspondence and times to gather together. We aim to be as open and transparent as possible, and we want to know your needs, hopes, and dreams for Phinney Ridge Lutheran Church. Feel free to reach out to Pastor Anne, Deacon Patrick, and any member of the congregation council if you have questions or concerns.

FROM THE BISHOP

September 2023

I went to the musical 1776 a few nights ago where I learned some new things about how the Declaration of Independence came to be written. As I watched, I felt proud to be an American – to be part of a group of people who wanted freedom from tyranny, freedom to vote, freedom from an empire far away.

There were also moments in this play when I was horrified at some decisions made. At the last minute, the clause to abolish slavery was removed so that all of the representatives would sign the document. The most powerful song in the musical, Molasses to Rum, reminds the audience how all the colonies were complicit in the selling of humans – not just the south. (<https://genius.com/John-cullum-molasses-to-rum-lyrics>)

As an American, I hold two realities. First, I rejoice in the wonder and aspiration of the United States of America. I am grateful for this country and I love what it is striving to be. At its best, it is a country where freedom and liberty are supreme. It is a place where care is given to those arriving on its shores. It is a place where people can freely go to church and other places of worship (or not go at all). In short, the United States is a promise of what can be.

At the same time, I hold the truth of this country's sins. Enslaved men built the White House, the U.S. Capitol building, and others. Homes of former presidents including George Washington's Mount Vernon and James Madison's Montpelier were built by men "owned" by them. The land that we in the Northwest Washington Synod are living on was once land that belonged to Samish and Duwamish, Lummi, and Muckleshoot and many others. Japanese people were unjustly imprisoned during World War II. Sundown laws and redlining laws were written throughout this country. As a white woman, I know that I could not vote until 1919. For women of color, the right to vote did not come until later. People who are part of the LGBTQIA+ communities have been harassed and discriminated against, beaten up and killed in this country. And discriminatory practices and violence continue to this day. In short, the systems in this country have violated and harmed people since its inception.

This is what it means to be an American: to vote, to engage in civic society, to appreciate this country, to grieve past and present sins, and to truthfully stand up and speak when it falls short of its ideals.

But what about those of us who are American and also Christian? Unequivocally it means that as much as one might love this country, this is not where our ultimate allegiance lies. For we are part of the body of Christ that extends beyond the borders of any country. As Lutheran Christians, we know that we are named, chosen, and called by God through Jesus. We hold deeply the joy that we are freed from sin, and, because of this, we are called into radical love, acceptance, and welcome – far beyond being a citizen of any country. We are freed to live beyond racism, injustice, and bigotry. Martin Luther wrote that freedom is a gift from God, not just for our sake, or our country's sake, but for the sake of the world.

Tragically, there are those who want to distort this freedom. To somehow merge Christian and American identities. Rather than freedom, conflating religious authority with political authority leads to tyranny and marginalization - especially of minority groups. Christian Nationalism is neither patriotic nor is it faithful. You do not have to be Christian to be a "true" American. And you do not have to be American to be Christian. At its heart, it is idolatrous. As the First Commandment states, "You shall have no other gods."

Together, as faithful Christians, let us live into Jesus' words –into radical love, acceptance and welcome. Let us speak truth to power and stand with those without power. Let us follow Jesus who commands us to love everyone as our brothers and sisters and siblings including our fellow citizens, those of other belief systems, and those of other nations. Together, as faithful Christians, let us stand up and speak out against Christian Nationalism and any system that marginalizes, harms, and subjugates another. As Jesus announces in the gospel of Luke, "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because God has anointed me to bring good news to the poor. God has sent me to proclaim release to the captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to let the oppressed go free, to proclaim the year of the Lord's favor." For freedom Christ has set us free. May we live and dance and revel in the freedom of Christ.

DEACON DISPATCH

DEACON PATRICK MEAGHER

The Sneaky Truth of the PRLC Outreach Fund

You don't hear me asking for donations to our PRLC Outreach Fund very often. I know that's fingernails on a chalk board to my development friends! And I get it. I can be overly shy about this sometimes. My reticence at fundraising certainly contradicts the central role the Outreach Fund plays in our shared ministry of word and service. Every penny donated into the fund goes directly to a household so in need they have humbled themselves to ask for help from strangers. Just let that sink in... In their time of distress, the fund embodies no less than the tangible evidence of God's love on earth, and a balm for basic— and always intertwined— material and spiritual needs.

Another reason I don't do a lot of fundraising is that I don't really need to. Why? Well, you get it! So many of you regularly support our direct financial assistance program that things keep humming along, and my energies can be focused more on helping people than asking for money. Thank you, sincerely, for your ongoing support.

Unlike God's limitless love, there are some limits for how much and how often we can help a household. We administer the fund with the utmost respect for your donations, and embrace the responsibility and trust that comes with your partnership. We facilitate direct payments to landlords, utility companies, or gas stations, and thereby don't give cash directly to outreach clients. My position is designed to offer the time to get to know each situation, and collect the necessary (but not overly burdensome to the client) paperwork to verify the need. We usually have the budget to give away about $3000 a month reaching 8-12 households with some form of assistance, but the demand is often 2 or 3 times this.

Ultimately, the sneaky truth of our PRLC Outreach Ministry is that we actually need our clients more than they need us. We need our hearts to be engaged with human suffering, softened, and formed into the heart of Christ by the precious gift of vulnerability our clients bring. We need to see our financial resources as the raw material that, when married with the machinery of generosity, forms into a great house of refuge in a world of storm. In this life, generosity is our only hope, and it changes everyone involved. If you'd like to participate in the generous exchange monthly or one time, please visit our online giving platform (prlc.org/giving) and select the Outreach Fund, put a check in the Sunday offering, or send your donation along to the church office.

Thank you for your generous support of the PRLC Outreach Fund!

FINANCIAL UPDATE

Written by Barbara Mockett

Even though the days are getting shorter and back-to-school sales are everywhere, this is the best part of summer to me. Paul grills and we have dinner on the deck more often, and when we visit Mee-Kwa-Mooks Park (a little coastline gem in West Seattle), I imagine that all the pleasure boats we see are out for a few days of cruising. It's a time of a slower pace and fewer commitments before everything spins up again in September.

Though summer is also a quieter time in the offering plates of many churches, it's not necessarily a quieter time of expenses. Our staff is doing a good job of keeping spending in check, with all expense categories either right at (Salaries) or below what would be expected at this point in the year.

Thanks to a bequest received this spring, we can fund the two large repair items on our lists – the leak in the chapel roof and a replacement for our boiler. Many, many thanks to the Building and Grounds committee for leading the way on these repairs.

We are continuing to fulfill our transition support responsibility to Pastor Hansen. As you recall, our agreement is to provide his salary, pension contribution and healthcare premium for the twenty-week period that began on June 19. Ann Erickson, our parish administrator, has been working with our insurance provider to make sure our building and parsonage are adequately covered, and to mitigate risks noted in the carrier's review. We're expecting a somewhat higher premium as a result, but also a more fire-safe building.

We are so thankful for two extraordinary gifts received early in the year. Were it not for those gifts, we would be about $58,000 below 2022 offerings at this point. Looking into the fall, as programs spin up, it's important that we all make efforts to fulfill our 2023 pledged giving. Thank you for all you do to support the ministry we share.

BUILDING AND GROUNDS UPDATE

Greeting from the BAG (Building And Grounds) committee.

The BAG committee, was formed in January of 2023 to provide solutions to the needs of the church property.

Your committee includes David Cress, David Gehman, Cherry Snelling, Karen Clark, Ken Roscoe, Linda Thorson, Brian Kreger, Steve Moody, Steve Mockett, Scott Radford and Joel Maier.

Our church home is a beautiful facility, but it needs a lot of care, so we got down to business and have knocked out some of these upkeep requirements.

For example, you'll notice the pothole in the church parking lot has been filled in and the parking lot has been re-stripped. (Woo Hoo with a shout out to all the volunteers who helped prep the parking lot and to Ken Roscoe who striped it!)

In-flight projects include replacing the church boiler and repairing the chapel exit area caused by water damage. Future projects being researched include landscape design of our front lawn, lighting in the bathrooms and repairing a refrigerator and non-working stove burners in the church kitchen.

We've designated the second weekend of each month for work/fun parties for everyone. How is this fun you ask? It's fun folks building community and making an impact under the direction of the BAG committee. Mark your calendars and watch the midweek updates and church bulletins for additional details.

ALL HANDS ON DECK!

Come one, come all to the 2023 PRLC Engagement Fair, where you're invited to LEARN, SERVE, and CONNECT!

Whether you are a long-time member or a new face in the community, we encourage you to explore new opportunities to serve within our body and outside our walls.

If you already sing in the choir, consider coming early on Wednesday evenings to work with our children or youth or try your hand at organizing the community meal. We'd love to have more hands rowing the ship!

If you're a youth member, consider an evening at the Food Bank or helping us plan Sunday Forum learning opportunities. We can learn from you!

If you're in your first year or fiftieth at PRLC, tell us what kinds of opportunities you've heard or dreamed about. We welcome you to lead us in new areas of growth!

Engagement Fair dates are September 10 & September 17, between services (10AM). Come learn about what we have going and where you can share your time and talents.

SEE YOU THERE, SCALAWAGS!

Spirited Women weekly book study group is starting back up on Thursday, Sept 21 after a summer break. Please consider joining this lively and inquisitive group, reading books on current topics with a spirituality lens. Join us for a book, a season or a lifetime ;).

We meet in-person in the Tree of Life room (enter through 75th St door) as well as having a simultaneous Zoom session. Zoom Meeting ID: 872 5037 0297

We begin discussing our summer book (available through Seattle Public Library etc) on 9/21 & 9/28. The Book of Longings is a novel by Sue Monk Kidd that tells the fictional story of Ana, a well-educated daughter of a scribe in Herod's occupational government in Galilee, who falls in love with Jesus ben Joseph, an itinerant stonemason and part-time carpenter from Nazareth. The novel is a love story between Ana and Jesus, and is grounded in meticulous historical research. It is also a provocative feminist theological speculation. We will also choose our next book, so please bring suggestions.

If you wish to join us, please email Ardis Pilz at ardispilz@comcast.net to be added to our email list.

Great news! The Children, Youth, and Family Ministry Task Force is thrilled to announce that we have hired David Roby to be our new Director of Children, Youth, and Family Ministries at PRLC! David's extensive experience teaching children and youth of all ages, his energy, his connection to this community, and his joy for this work are among the gifts he brings us. The CYF Task Force and Congregation Council also acknowledge that we are still in a season of determining what our staff structure and budget should look like moving forward. For this reason, David has been hired for the specific term of September 2023 through May 2024. During these months, the CYF Task Force will be providing numerous opportunities for the congregation to weigh in about the vision and mission for our CYF ministry at Phinney. Please watch for information and ways to participate as we discern the long-term future of this ministry. But for now, we give thanks to God for David's eagerness to step into this position. Welcome, David! (Members of the CYF Task Force include Pastor Lohrmann, Erica Shutes-David, Julie Carr, Amy Radil, Kara Novak, Frank Kreikebaum, Theresa Magelssen, and Thea Kaste.)
